Today is Grim Reaper Day at Berwick High School. The event is sponsored every year by SADD to remind everyone what a destructive combination alcohol and driving can be. Someone dies every 50 minutes in the United States as the result of a drunk driving accident. Every 50 minutes today, you will hear a bell ring to signify someone dying in a drunk driving accident. At that time, the Grim Reaper will take a student from their classroom to change into a t-shirt that reads “You can’t talk to me anymore. I was killed in a drunk driving accident and now I’m just a memory.” A tombstone will be placed on their locker and they will return to class unable to speak for the remainder of the day. The following poem exemplifies what a tremendous impact one bad decision can have on an individual and their family.

I went to a party,
And remembered what you said.
You told me
Not to drink, Mom
So I had a sprite instead.

I felt proud of myself,
The way you said I would.
That I didn’t drink and drive,
Though some friends said I should.

I made a healthy choice,
And your advice to me was right.
The party finally ended,
And the kids drove out of sight.

I got into my car,
Sure to get home in one piece.
I never knew what was coming, Mom,
Something I expected least.

Now I’m lying on the pavement,
And I hear the policeman say,
The kid that caused this wreck was drunk,
Mom, his voice seems far away

I’m sure the guy had no idea,
While he was flying high.
Because he chose to drink and drive,
Now I would have to die.

So why do people do it, Mom
Knowing that it ruins lives?
And now the pain is cutting me, like a
Hundred stabbing knives.

Tell sister not to be afraid, Mom
Tell daddy to be brave.
And when I go to heaven,
Put “Mommy’s Girl” on my grave.

Someone should have taught him,
That it’s wrong to drink and drive.
Maybe if his parents had,
I’d still be alive.

My breath is getting shorter,
Mom I’m getting really scared
These are my final moments,
And I’m so unprepared.

My own blood's all around me,
As I try hard not to cry.
I can hear the paramedic say,
This girl is going to die.

I wish that you could hold me Mom,
As I lie here and die.
I wish that I could say "I love you, Mom!"
So I love you and good bye.
